

To Whom It May Concern:

This email is in regards to the possible change of leverage in the forex market.
Things should be left the way they are.
Now a days it's hard enough to find a job so some people turn to trading as an extra source of income.
(This being my case.)

Do not change the leverage regulations for the Forex market.

Francesca Pellot